

East Anglia's
Children's Hospices

Stuie, 14 years old, from the United Kingdom, continues to try and make the world a better place for all despite what he has been through. Just like Aurora from Disney's Sleeping Beauty, Stuie continues to grow and develop himself whilst discovering his special strengths.

Stuie has helped East Anglia's Children's Hospices (EACH) as the charity supported his family when his younger brother, Fraser, sadly died from a rare condition. Inspired by those around him and well-known fundraisers on television, Stuie decided to challenge himself to run 5k every day throughout the month of May, raising enough money for three full days' worth of care from his nearest EACH hospice! He demonstrates his courage and kindness through his inspiring fundraising.

EACH hospices, supported by Together for Short Lives, are fun and happy environments where young people can live to their full potential. They are places where families can spend quality time together and share special moments. To find out more about EACH, please visit the charity's website:

Together for Short Lives is the leading charity for the 99,000 babies, children and young people in the UK with a life-limiting or life-threatening condition. They raise vital funds for the UK's 54 lifeline children's hospices, and help families to treasure every moment together. Read more about the charity at: <https://www.togetherforshortlives.org.uk>
