

Despite her own challenges, Valeria, 9 years old from Spain, continues to show her courage, and champion awareness around childhood acquired brain damage. Just like Anna from Disney's Frozen, her passion and love has led her to do amazing things and create awareness, helping those who are suffering.

Valeria has been the spokesperson on several occasions on behalf of children with acquired brain damage whilst supporting Fundación Sin Daño. She records videos, as well as giving interviews, helping to raise awareness for childhood acquired brain damage.

Valeria is always positive, and feels passionately about ways she can help make a difference to other children's lives. She demonstrates courage and kindness through her compassion and love for everyone she meets.

Fundación Sin Daño is a non-profit foundation that provides a meeting point for families affected and therapists of childhood brain injury. To find out more about Fundación Sin
